Notes

1. All four artists have also painted scenes of Christ's crucifixion, which is an equally acceptable answer.
2. In Q31, stating that a two-word answer is required might give the impression that (assuming a team knows the answer) 'Trappist' is significant to the theme, which is arguably misleading.

The words pertaining to the connection are so well hidden in the first two answers that they were of no help in determining the theme.

A simpler/more obvious (and less fiendish) theme is that each answer contains the name of an animal.
3. The pairing has gone awry with these questions. All question setters are reminded that for each pair one should be an odd-numbered question, the other even. They are also reminded to thoroughly check their question paper for this sort of error before delivering copies to the Tiviot.
